“...Originally, I didn’t like its colour, but having tried most beddings on the market, Equisorb is definitely the best for ease of use, disposal and cost. It suits the stud very well in every way...”- Burton Agnes Stud, North Driffield, East Yorkshire

“...We had an initial trial which went well, but when we put the whole yard on it, we realised just how much time we were saving in mucking out...” - Jeanette Brakewell, Rocester

“...I looked after my neighbour’s horses when they were on holiday and was very impressed with how little bedding I used and how small the muck heap was. I now use it myself and am very pleased with the high absorbancy and find it very economical to use – and I don’t have huge piles of shavings to dispose of, as I can spread the equisorb much straight onto my garden...”- E-Mail from Linda Sumpner

“...We put the whole yard onto Equisorb based on overall cost comparisons, not only usage of product (which was less), but reducing mucking out time and removal of muck heap less often, thus costing less. The savings on an annual basis were, and still are, substantial...”- Tina Clapham, Eventers International, Lincolnshire
